- Maryland scholarships and grant programs are available to eligible students who plan to attend a public or private Maryland college, university or private career school.
- State financial aid can be used by both part-time and full-time students at the undergraduate and graduate level.

QUESTIONS & ANSWERS

Q. Am I eligible for money for college?

A. You must be a Maryland resident to qualify for State scholarships and grants.

Q. Do I have to pay back the money once I graduate from college?

A. No, you don't have to pay back State financial aid; however, some programs require you to work in a specific field or Maryland region for a certain amount of time after you graduate. The Office of Student Financial Assistance (OSFA) can answer your questions about these service requirements.

Q. Do I have to go to college in Maryland?

A. In all but a few cases, State scholarships and grants can only be used at a Maryland college, university, or private career school.

There are some exceptions. Senatorial and Delegate scholarships can be used in other states, if your chosen field of study is declared a "unique" major by the Maryland Higher Education Commission. "Unique" means that your major is not offered at any Maryland postsecondary institution.
